1. Workshop on Prevention of Sexual Harrassment of Women at Workplace

on
27th February 2017

Maharashtra State Commission For Women
Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace
(Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal Act 2013)

DO YOU KNOW?

- Every organization has to follow the law on sexual harassment of women at workplace. Be it big or small, and whether it has women employees or not.
- The law mandates confidentiality. This is to prevent identification of the women, harasser and the witness in public or to the media.
- The evaluation of a charge of sexual harassment would depend on how you see it. What matters is how you perceived it, and not what the harasser says he intended.
- The law provides prompt remedy. That's because the complaints committee has to complete the inquiry within 90 days. And the 90-day period starts from the time you lodged the complaint and not from the day when the incident occurred.
- Sexual harassment is a criminal offence and is punishable with imprisonment for a term of up to 3 years. (as per The Indian Penal Code)
- You don't have to be working at an organization to make a sexual harassment complaint against its employee. You could be a visitor, a vendor, a customer, a bystander, an intern, or even a job seeker and still be able to complain. You need lesser proof under the law, than what you need to get justice under criminal law. In this case, one need to prove probability, whereas in criminal law, the proof has to be beyond reasonable doubt.
- An organization has to assist you in lodging a complaint with the complaint committee of the organization where the harasser works. Or, even lodge a police complaint against harasser, if you so desire.

"Elocution Competition on Gender Equality"

Programme Report

Gurunanak College of Pharmacy conducted Elocution Competition on dt.:28/12/2019 on the topic of Gender Equality at 12.00 noon in the auditorium of Gurunanak College of Pharmacy.

Gender inequality is an issue which is usually not a topic of every household gossip. But it surely is a very important theme for discussion, and that's exactly why our college conducted this event, where students came forward to share their opinions, their stories regarding gender inequality. Students talked about the rights of an individual irrespective of their gender. They also discussed how society has restricted us to play certain roles according to our gender. Also enlightened us about the fact that how expectations of society has damaged our mental health.

Students also mentioned how men are usually overlooked, and believed to be strong enough to handle any situation without twitching even a bit. They described their perspectives by giving beautiful examples; such as the goddess of knowledge is Lordess Sarawati, yet so many girls lack basic education, or how for almost every chore we turn towards our mothers, even for tasks as simple as sewing a button in our shirt. These anatomies, examples explained that how we have divided roles among genders.

People also raised the topic that how many times men become the victims of false allegations or fake feminism, leading them to either being wrongly judged or brutally criticized. Students also discussed hardships of many leaders, eminent personalities that worked to ensure that equal and basic rights were given to women. They also talked about women achievements, mentioning names such as Kalpana chawla.

Many students came forward and explained that how men of our society are seen in a bad light when they express their sentiments, how they are considered weak for taking any kind of emotional support. The conclusion came out to be that gender inequality isn't just about punishing the wronged ones, but it's also about not blaming women for their choice of clothing, it is also about not overlooking one gender over the other. The whole thing boils down to one thing, that no gender, race, cast, religion is superior to the other. Aysha Khan; Asema Razi; Aishwarya Mohnani & Ajay Nagre were participated in the Elocution Competition. Winner of the competition was Ajay Nagrare.

Subject - Invitation letter as a guest speaker on "GST and digital payments".

Dear Sir,

Hope to find you in a good health. The purpose of writing this is to inform you that Gurunanak College of Pharmacy has constituted an Entrepreneurship and skill development cell for overall development of students so that they can take up self-employment as career option. It is an honour and privilege to cordially invite you as the Guest Speaker to guide us on "GST and digital payments" for ED Cell, as you are a symbol of success for students. Your knowledge in this field is unparalleled and a talk on this topic will be of great benefit. We look forward to a positive confirmation, an honour for us indeed. The decided date is 14th July 2017 on Friday at 10.30.a.m. in the auditorium of Gurunanak College of Pharmacy.

Sir, we are hoping for a positive response from your side. I thank you in anticipation.

With warm regards
